RHYME OF THE GERMAN BARBER.

- It vos Duesday last I saw a girl In sober plack so neat, She kept her eyes der bavements down
- Mit a gaze vich vas shy und sveet; Und she didn't lift von inch uf her skirt Ven she crossed der muddy street; But a friend sayst she vas a baket girl
- Vich dances her clothes mitoud. Vell, der longer vot ve lif der more Ve find, py gracious, oud.
- I sat me at a dinner peside A chatty chap so free,
- Und der yarns be spun mit der vine arount Vould sdartle a prass monkey. It vouldn't do to print dem oud In a pook which Comstock could see,
- He gave me his card und-vot you dink? A breacher he vas, mitout doubt, Vell, der longer vot ve lif der more Ve find, py gracious, oud.
- I saw a growt uf loafer chaps Make fun mit a dude von day. "Oh, where did you get dem toothpick shoes?" "Does your mudder know you're avay?"
- Dev jibed dot zickly, pale faced sveli, Till each von had his say-Und den dot dude let fly bis fists, Und put der whole gang to rout. Der longer vot ve lif der more
- Ve find, py gracious, oud. I fell in luf mit a sweet young piece, Mit a shape like a marple fawn;
- But she married a sergeant of bolice, Und left me all forlorn. Dot sergeant veeps on my shoulder now, Und vishes he neffer vos porn.
- Der gal vas composed uf pins and pads, Mit even her bones in doubt. Der longer vot ve lif der more Ve find, py gracious, oud. -New York Sun.

Inspection of People's Noses. A French paper is soon to appear as the organ of the science of "nazography," a system which, the author says, permits of divining the character, habits and inclination of people by a simple inspection of their noses. He says: A long nose is the sign of merit, power and genius; a straight nose denotes a just, serious, fine, judicious and energetic mind; the Roman nose a propensity for adventure; a wide nose, with open nostrils, is a mark of sensuality; a cleft nose shows benevolence; the curved, fleshy nose is a sign of formination and cruelty; the curved thin nose, on the contrary, is a mark of a brilliant mind, but vain, and disposed to be ironical; the turned up nose denotes a weak mind, sometime coarse, and generally playful, pleasant or frolicsome; a pale nose indicates agotism, envy, heartlessness; and the quick, passionate, sanguine person has a strongly colored nose of a uniform shade. - Boston Herald

The Bostonese Versus The Omahaugs. A Dialogue. Omaha Girl-I suppose Boston has changed

greatly since I was there. Boston Girl-Oh, Boston never changes; it broadens somewhat, evolutes possibly, but practically it is as changeless as the laws of the National Baseball association. "I thought perhaps theosophy was having

"Theosophy, dear, is nothing new in Boston, though I confess the theories were until recently unformulated. Everybody now reads The Occult World and some of the ladies are such enthusiasts that they take a copy of | 20-d&wif the book with them to the baseball games and pound it against a volume of Emerson when a player makes a good point."

"Emerson is still popular, than?" "Indeed yes. No other thinker has yet been able to project a theoretical sphere which Emerson's philosophy could not hit and knock clear out of the field." "I did not know Emerson was a theosoph

"He did not call himself one, but Professor Mike Kelly does not call himself an artist, yet we all know he is." "I thought at one time that the Sweden-borgian doctrines would take fast root in "You were mistaken. Swedenborg merely toyed with great truths with soft gloves. Bostonians prefer straight from the shoulder, bare knuckled realism in their graspings after the infinite. Dreams are but dreams after all, and they should no more be confounded with ascertained facts than nightmares with actual contests, Marquis of Queensbury rules. I trust I make myself understood." 'Pardon my lack of comprehension, but you | know we have not the advantages here in Jos. MOORE Omaha which Bostonians enjoy."

"I presume not, but you will revel in all these intellectual delights in the course of time. Professor Sullivan's arm is getting well, and he is a great traveler." "Are his lectures illustrated?"

"Vividly! The only difficulty is to find action of the human mind, the mere mention of the fact that he sfrom Boston reacts upon the organs of apprehension in such way as to render it extremely difficult to find subjects willing to stand up before him."

"It is very strange." "You wouldn't think so if you could see his biceps. I wish you could be in Boston during the height of the season."

"When does the season open now?" "Just as soon as the ground is dry. Well, here comes the train. Good by, dear."— Omaha World.
